Ashlar-Vellum™ Announces Cobalt™ & Xenon™ Solo

October 10, 2013, Austin, TX. Ashlar-Vellum announces Cobalt v8 Solo and Xenon v8 Solo, two new price points in their Designer Elements product line of 3D solid and surface modeling software. Traditionally bundled with a companion license to Graphite™, Ashlar-Vellum's precision 2D/3D CAD and wireframe drafting package, Cobalt and Xenon are now available individually without Graphite at lower price points on both Mac and Windows.

Robert Bou, president of Ashlar-Vellum, commented, "This is just one more way that Ashlar-Vellum always provides the best value for our customers."

Featuring Ashlar-Vellum's award-winning Organic Workflow™, their non-linear design process, both Cobalt and Xenon offer:

- Class-A NURBS surfaces, ACIS solids and intuitive wireframe modeling in one seamless, non-modal package.
- The Drafting Assistant™ user interface for intelligent snaps and alignments in X,Y&Z.
- Full associatively and history for fast design revisions.
- Professional drafting with associative dimensioning and model analysis.
- More than 30 professional translators.

In addition, Cobalt adds to the list above:

- On-demand parametrics for design variations and product families.
- 3D mechanical parts library of 149,000 bearings, bolts, nuts and other parts.

With the introduction of Cobalt and Xenon Solo, Ashlar-Vellum has also reduced the prices of their 3D modeling products across the board:

- Cobalt v8 Solo US $1495
- Cobalt v8 Plus Graphite v8 US $2495 (formerly US $2995)

- Xenon v8 Solo US $ 995
- Xenon v8 Plus Graphite v8 US $1995 (formerly US $2495)

- Argon v8 US $ 695 (formerly US $ 995)
